

This high-dollar peddler of special interests won't be voting for John Carona.

The grandson of Italian immigrants, John Carona is a self-made man, who founded his own successful company – and he’s earned a reputation for working just as hard as our state senator. We can count on John to protect hardworking taxpayers and families, and to be the results-minded problem-solver we need in Austin.

Republican John Carona. Putting taxpayers & families first.

A business approach to government. As Founder and CEO of one of the nation’s largest property management companies, John Carona brings more than 30 years of hands-on business experience to the Texas Senate. That’s why Senator Carona has led efforts to cut spending, balance our budget and focus our resources in areas that will help create jobs and grow our economy.

Improving our public schools. A product of Dallas public schools, John Carona knows that improving our schools and creating an educated workforce will grow our economy. That’s why Senator Carona has led for performance-based merit and local control – from the top administration down to the classroom level. And, Senator Carona has worked for laws that cut waste and focus more resources in the classroom, investing in teachers and learning tools that directly impact our schoolchildren.

Cracking down on predatory lenders. As Chair of the Senate Business & Commerce Committee, John Carona led for new laws that reign in payday lenders that take advantage of consumers. He led for laws that require these businesses to be licensed by the Consumer Credit Commission, and laws that require regular disclosures about their business transactions.

Improving access to health care. With more than six years on the Senate Health and Human Services Committee, Senator Carona has worked tirelessly to protect the rights of patients, control the rising cost of health care and improve access and quality of care. A true conservative, Senator Carona is a strong opponent of government-mandated health care and believes that health care policies should be addressed at the state level, not by the federal government.

Republican John Carona.

The proven conservative we trust.

“When it comes to protecting our taxpayers and families, we need the fair-minded approach of a businessman and the caring compassion of a father. We are blessed to have both qualities in Senator John Carona.”

Ebby Halliday Acers

“In this day and age, it’s hard to find leadership as thoughtful, honest and focused on the common good as Republican John Carona. Our community and our state are better because of his positive leadership, and we need his continued conservative strength in Austin.”
